Allergen Statement

Regulatory labelling statement required: Rapeseed protein may cause allergic reactions to consumers who are allergic to mustard and products thereof.

This product does not have a cross contamination risk with mustard. Rapeseed protein can cause an allergic reaction to mustard allergy sufferers due being from the same family. However, to ensure that this risk flows down the Food Service supply chain to the consumer, we have elected to answer Yes to May Contain Mustard. Please note that on the product packaging, there is no mention of May Contain Mustard, as it does not apply.
